

NEVADA BOYS' STATE 2001

PROGRAM YEARBOOK

DEDICATED TO THE POSSE

UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, RENO
JUNE 10-16, 2001

Why Boys' State

When you first arrived here at this program most of you had no idea what you were going to experience. You had no idea how much this week was going to change your life, hopefully for the better. To say you have learned new things and made great new friends would be an understatement. To say your lives have changed, would simply be the truth.

As counselors, we all come back here for our own selfish reasons. Yet, we all share one burning desire, to see you succeed. If you win an election, great. If you don't win an election, you have learned what it takes to win the next one. We want you to become an active member of the society around you. Our goal for each and every one of you is that you realize, life won't come to you. Life is something that needs to be experienced with both eyes wide open.

Boys' State gives you the chance to take risks, to work hard, and to find out what you believe in. Many of you have never had the chance, or even the reason to come up with your own political views. You have probably never really thought about issues like funding for education, environmental protection or the right to freedom of speech. Yet, now you have gained the basic knowledge to start creating a belief system that is entirely your own. You have the opportunity to change your life for the better.

During your time here you have had the opportunity to listen to many great speakers, each with his/her own special style. You heard John Tyson talk about the importance of character, honesty, and of course loyalty. You heard Senator Amodei talk about what it takes to be a public official and how to present yourself in the best possible way. You even listened to the always opinionated Mills Lane and learned that he values discipline above all else. We hope that you managed to take some gems of wisdom from our speakers this year, and that you will be able to pass those gems on to the people who can benefit from them the most. In the future, you may actually return as a speaker to share some of the things you have learned.

This yearbook contains the names and numbers of people who will not just be your friends this week, they will be your friends for life. We encourage you to use them. They are one of your best resources for the future. We have long heard the saying, "It's not what you know, it's who you know." However, this phrase is not complete as you see it. I would argue that it's not just who you know, but how you choose to utilize your relationship with them.

Throughout the week you have learned many fundamental principles about government, civic duty, personal responsibility and even compromise. Yet, I believe the most important thing we have tried to teach you this week is to participate. If you don't try, you have already failed. If you don't ask, the answer is always no. If you don't risk, you can't gain. President Lincoln once said, "If think you can't, you won't. If you think you are beaten, you are. For in the end, the one who wins, is the one who thinks he can."

As a staff we want to thank you for spending a week of your lives with us. We only hope that you will take the things you have learned here, and use them. For if you don't, we have put this program on in vain. You now know what the program is about, and I leave the opening question for you to answer, as I know all of you can.

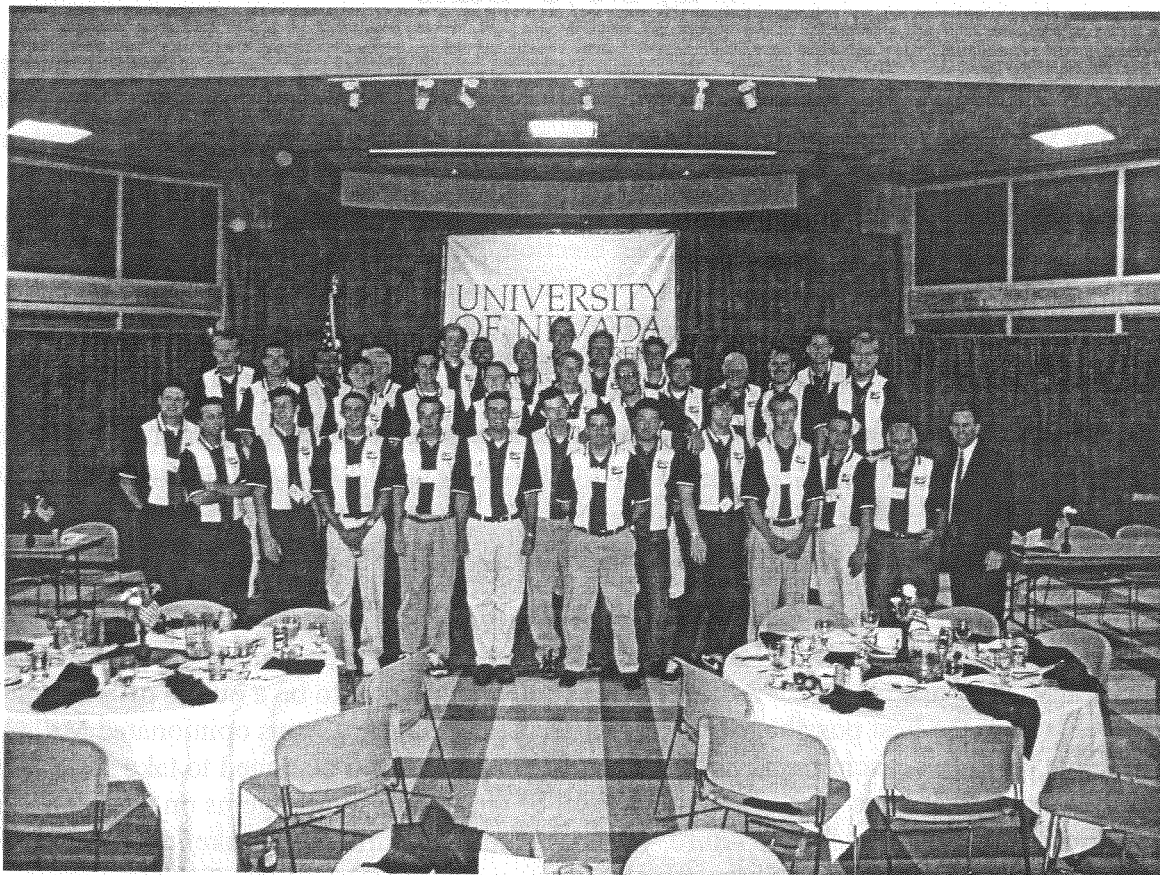

Remember that your life is what you make of it,

Bob Ryser

BILL VALLEY

I don't know how to start this but I'll start off by saying how great a program this is. I was asked to write this article because Lisa Kornze, who worked with me on The Statesman, asked me to do so. We, the city of Martie, do a thing called thorns and roses. With this you tell what you liked about the day and what you didn't like. Shane, our senior counselor, wanted us to pull emotion from within. We started around the room and we cried. I'm not ashamed to admit it and I hope the other delegates aren't either. We have an emotional bond between us that is very strong, as stated several times that night; we all love each other and are like brothers. Our great chief justice, Spencer Wall, said that Boys' State is more for yourself than anything else. It may look good for college or on a resume but this program is around mainly to help you discover and realize who you are. Most of the men in the room cried. I believe that we all cried the most when one of our beloved counselors started to cry. So, I personally believe that if you had a good time you will never forget this. At this time, the program is the best thing I have ever done in seventeen years. You made brothers for life, so I hope you make the best of it. If you didn't, I'm sorry. You missed out on something great and beautiful. I will never forget this and I hope none of you do either.

And to the city of Martie, from the 55th Nevada Boys' State session, I love you all, and we will all see one another again.

Preston Williams
